

Dotplot

In the state of Connecticut, the Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) requires 16- and 17-year-olds to take a 25-question knowledge test in order to obtain a Learner's Permit. To pass, prospective drivers must correctly answer at least 20 questions

On one Monday, 22 teenagers took the test. The dot plot below shows their scores